Reference D) describes a method involving transmitting parameters and data which include vehicle identification from a control room via a radio link. The existing control data of a vehicle is overwritten when the vehicle identification is identical with a given identification. Data are only transmitted when the driver gives a release instruction. The data are only overwritten with the updated data in a given operation condition.

Reference E) describes a method involving sending a communication frame, which comprises a transmitting data sequence (4), by one of a number of connected network nodes in the transmission path, which have a communication control mechanism and are joined to a bus conductor. A network node in the receiving area codes a received communication frame, and stores it as reception data. If no errors are detected in the received communication frame, the stored reception data is sent back to the transmitting network node without modification, as a back message signal.

The above-identified application discloses and claims an invention patentable over this prior art.

Entry of the references above set forth into the file of the above application is believed to be in order and is respectfully requested.

The Commissioner is hereby authorized to charge any additional fees which may be required, or credit any overpayment to Deposit Account No. 06-0502.

Respectfully submitted
